MARTIAL LAW

Virtually Prevails About Pittsburgh.

Marching and Trespassing Will Be Stopped.

Coffeen, Ill., Invaded, but Strikers are Jailed.

Gen. Bradley the First Man Arrested. Sandy Creek Campers Go to Plum Creek—Shortage of Provisions Leads to Uneasiness.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Aug. 17.—Martial law, to all intents and purposes, has been declared in Plum, Patton and Wilkins townships by Sheriff Lowry.

Three miles of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company in these townships and all roads leading to them will be patrolled by deputies.

Persons who cannot give a satisfactory account of themselves will be ordered to leave the neighborhood, and upon refusal will be arrested.

The Sheriff will not attempt to break up the camp of the strikers until the court has passed on the question, but he announced today that he had determined to stop the marching and trespassing on the company's property.

No one will be allowed on the company's property who fails to have a pass signed by Superintendent de Armit.

There are now nearly eight hundred men in camp at Plum Creek. After the mutiny at Sandy Creek yesterday, the camp at that point was abandoned and the men went to Plum Creek. In addition, 200 men arrived this morning from Belle Vernon. The large increase in the number in camp caused a shortage of provisions, and the men are hungry. They threatened to march during the morning, but were induced not to by the deputies.

The contemplated plan to have the women make marches has been definitely decided upon by the leaders, and the wives and daughters of the strikers will now take up the work which the men have been enjoined from doing.

It is the intention to begin tomorrow and have the women do the marching, while the men remain in camp. The leaders think the injunction is not operative against women, and it remains to be seen what the outcome will be.

A new element is to be introduced in the situation at an early date. The farmers of the entire country surrounding the several camps are making extensive preparations for a demonstration to show their sympathy for the strikers. They propose to have a parade, headed by a band, march down the Sautsburg and up over the hills.

About six hundred strikers from Thomas Run, accompanied by 150 women and children, marched to Camp Victory near Cannonsburgh today. They will remain at the camp until Saturday, when a meeting will be held.

Suits and counter suits promise to be one of the most prominent features of the coal miners' strike. While the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company has been prosecuting its injunction case, the miners have been gathering material on which to bring suits, not alone for wages, but for trespass.

THE UNIFORMITY AGREEMENT. PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Aug. 17.—In the opinion of a number of coal-mine operators, the uniformity agreement, admittedly a good thing, will not receive the support its articles are said to warrant. A canvass of operators shows that they are not rushing to the committee with signed agreements in their hands.

The committee claims to have secured the signatures of a number of coal firms and operators whose places of business are out of the city. So far as can be ascertained, however, the only Pittsburgh firms that are enrolled are those represented by J. J. Steytler, who signed only for his Panhandle mine; Henry Florsheim, who was the first man to place his name at the foot of the articles; and David D. Breckenridge of the Eclipse Coal Company, whose mines are at Coal Centre.

INVASION OF COFFEEN. Strikers Rush in Pellmell-Bradley and Others Arrested.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] HILLSBORO (Ill.) Aug. 17.—Six hundred striking coal miners, eight abreast, invaded Coffeen at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, throwing aside the deputy sheriffs doing guard duty and going through the town pellmell.

The officials ordered the guards not to shoot, but they began making arrests as far as possible.

Gen. Bradley was the first man placed under arrest, and three guards came to his city with him as fast as horses could travel. He is now in the county jail. Other prisoners are on the way here. No shots were fired and no blood was shed.

The invasion was for the purpose of inducing the men at work in the mine there to cease and join the strike. The Sheriff will increase his force of deputies, and the invaders will be compelled to leave the town, or there will be a conflict.

HOLDING THE TOWN. ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17.—A special to the Republic from Coffeen, Ill., says: "Tonight the strikers are in possession of the town, and Sheriff Randall has ordered his handful of men to the coal company's shaft, which he says he will protect at all hazards. The town authorities are utterly powerless, as the strikers command the district. The public feel indignant toward the Governor for the stand he has taken. It was by his orders, through his representative, that the force of deputies was retained."

READY TO GIVE PROTECTION. EVANSVILLE (Ind.) Aug. 17.—Both the Sheriff and police were ready today to give protection to the owners of the First-avenue coal mine and to those of the mine who still desired to work. But when the deputies of one and a squad of the other arrived at the mine early in the morning, they soon found that their services were not wanted.

THING OF THE PAST. CARTERSVILLE (Ill.) Aug. 17.—The coal strike, so far as Williamson county is concerned, is almost a thing of the past. The shaft at Johnson City, which has been idle nearly a week, also resumed operations this morning.

NEWS FROM ANDREE. THE CARRIER-PIGION MESSAGE DECLARED TO BE GENUINE. A Letter Addressed to a Stockholm Newspaper also in the Possession of the Captain of Sailing-vessel Alken. How the News Reached Europe.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] CHRISTIANA, Aug. 17.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Information received here confirms the report published in the dispatch from Hammerfest, Norway, saying that one of the searchers for Herr Andree met the sailing vessel Alken about July 22, and was informed by the captain that one of the crew had shot a carrier-pigeon between North Cape and Seven Islands, on the north coast of the island, bearing a message from the explorer addressed to the Aftonbladet of Stockholm, which read as follows: "Eighty-two degrees passed. Good journey northward."

[Signed] "ANDREE." The date of the message was illegible. The pigeon also carried a letter addressed to the Aftonbladet, but the captain of the vessel declined to surrender it. The captain is familiar with Andree's plans, and he is interested in the news.

The news arrived here indirectly. The captain of the Alken communicated the information to a commander of the ship Julepeter of Tromsø, the latter transmitted the news to the commander of the steamer Express, upon which the Lorne polar expedition is coming. The news along to the steamer Lofoden which brought it here.

REACHED HIS LIMIT. Commander J. C. Morang to Be Retired Because of Age.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—An order has been issued by the Navy Department retiring Commander J. C. Morang on August 28, he having reached the age limit of 62 years. Commander Morang was a volunteer naval officer and entered the service April 1, 1863, when he was made ensign and assigned to the duty with the Mississippi river squadron. In 1888 he entered the regular navy as an ensign, and has been regularly promoted. He once commanded the naval station at Puget Sound.

His retirement promotes Lieutenant-Commander Albert Ross to be commander; Lieut. J. A. Norris to be lieutenant commander; and Lieut. Hart of the junior grade to be lieutenant. Ensign Durall to be lieutenant junior grade.

AMERICAN SCHOOLS. Grand Total Enrollment of Over Sixteen Million Pupils.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The report of the United States Commissioner of Education, Dr. William T. Harris, for the year ended July 1, 1896, has just been completed. It shows a total enrollment in that year in the public and private schools, both public and private, of 15,997,197 pupils. This was an increase of 308,557. The number of public institutions was 14,465,371, and in private institutions 1,531,826.

In addition to all these there were 418,000 pupils in the various special schools and institutions, including business colleges, music conservatories, Indian and reform schools, making the grand total enrollment for the whole country 16,415,477.

CASHIER GAVE UP. Three Young Men Rob the Bank at Pineville.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) Aug. 17.—This morning at 10 o'clock three men armed with Winchester went into the Pineville Bank, forced the cashier to hold up his hands, and secured about $800, mostly silver. A posse pursued the robbers and exchanged several shots without effect. The robbers turned north about four miles from Pineville and escaped. One was dark and low-set, apparently an Indian. They are believed to be members of what is known as the Collier gang.

NATIONAL RAILWAY AGENTS. CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 17.—The first annual meeting of the National Railway Agents' Association was held today at the Hotel Hamilton, of Pittsburgh, presided by Mayor McKisson delivered an address of welcome, after which the association heard addresses of its officers. DUNHAM SEEN.

A Former Employee Talks With Him.

Was in Hermosillo, Sonora, at the Time.

Murderer Was About to Leave for China.

Pietro Quadri Might Have Had a Second Interview With the Assassin, but Feared for His Own Life and Fled.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] DENVER, Aug. 17.—A special to the Republican from Phoenix, Ariz., says: "Murderer Dunham, who killed five people near Los Gatos, Cal., a year ago, has been seen and within sixty days past. He was then at Hermosillo, Sonora. He was met on the main street and recognized by Pietro Quadri, an ignorant Italian, who had worked for him at Los Gatos, and who at the time of the murder was working as a fruit picker for McClinty, one of the victims."

"Dunham saw he was recognized, and greeted the Italian in apparent good-will. He had changed his appearance only in being shaved. He gave the Italian little information, saying, however, that he had been in Sonora for months, and was on the point of leaving for China. He asked a few questions as to the state of affairs, and gave Quadri an appointment for a second meeting in the evening at a drinking place near by."

"The talk did not last ten minutes, as the Italian confessed that he was trembling with fear, anticipating nothing but immediate death at the hands of the man. The evening appointment he believed to be nothing more than a scheme whereby he might be assassinated, and so instead of keeping it, he boarded the afternoon train. He promised Dunham on parting from him that he would say nothing about the meeting, and this promise he carefully kept. This afternoon he divulged his secret to an officer just leaving for the mines."

Car Famine in the West. ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Aug. 17.—Railroad officials in St. Joseph report that there is danger of a car famine on Western roads caused by the immense grain crops. PENT-UP UTICA

California's Greatest Gold Producer Afire.

Mine Flooded by Water and Will Be Idle for Months.

Six Men Cut Off, but Escape Through a New Shaft.

Trails All Blocked at Klondyke—Effort Being Made to Start Another One—Passengers and Freight Unlawfully Landed at Skagway.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] ANGELS CAMP, Aug. 17.—The Utica mine, the largest gold-producing property in California, is on fire. The Utica is owned by Alvinza Hayward, C. D. Lane and the Hobart estate. It is said to produce $200,000 worth of gold a month.

Flames and smoke were discovered issuing from the 800-foot level, station No. 4, at 4 o'clock this morning. It was with difficulty that the shift made its escape. Six men were cut off, but made their way out through the south end of the new shaft. The fire is supposed to have originated from spontaneous combustion caused by hard and coal oil. It is impossible at present to estimate the extent of the loss, but it is safe to say that it will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Not only are the mine-owners affected, but the whole town of Angels, which has a population of 6000 inhabitants, is almost entirely dependent upon the miners employed in the Utica group. There are one thousand men employed, and should the fire prove as serious as reported, these men will be left in destitute circumstances. Every effort is being made to quench the fire as rapidly as possible, but the gas and smoke are escaping from all shafts, which are being rapidly bulkheaded.

The mine is being rapidly flooded with water, and all main pipes have been cut, and about three miners' inches are pouring down the shaft. It will take at least four days to flood the mine, and it is estimated that it will take at least two months to pump out the water and fit the mine for regular operations. On July 21, 1895, a similar fire occurred, and it was seven weeks before work could be resumed. The shafts are deeper now, and it will undoubtedly take a much longer time.

The Utica mine, which is the largest quartz gold mine worked by the chlorination process, contains 200 stamps and fourteen roasting ovens, besides an immense amount of the necessary machinery. It is estimated the net profits of the mine exceed $1,500,000 per annum.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—A special to the Chronicle from Angels Camp says that for the second time within a little over two years the Utica mine, the most famous gold-producer on the mother lode, caught fire today. The first thought of all was for the night shift, which was at work when the blaze was discovered spreading from the oil tank to the timbers. The men had escaped early, and no one had been in the last injured.

The first intimation that anything was wrong came from a man who was passing station 4 on the 800-foot level at 4 o'clock. The whole work was on fire. He attempted to beat it out with his jacket, but soon found it was useless, as a large cask of oil was in flames. The men in the Stickle shaft were notified at once, and were hoisted to the top. One of their number had been to the station only fifteen minutes before to fill his lamp, and is supposed to have set fire to something in close proximity to the oil tank.

All of the men in other sections of the mine were taken out and placed at work bulkheading the two drifts in the Stickle. One runs from the north and the other from the south and connects the Utica with the Stickle shaft. With these closed up water-tight, the hydraulic monitors were put to work throwing water into the shaft on fire. For four hours thousands of gallons of water poured into the mine, while the hopes of the miners that it would be extinguished speedily fell.

At 8 o'clock the water was shut off and all openings closed tight in the hope that the fire would be smothered in about further trouble, but no one is capable of saying at this time whether or not the work has been successful. Tomorrow afternoon the shaft will be opened and men sent down to learn just what has been accomplished.

Should there be no fire tomorrow when the miners go below to investigate, the pumps will be put to work removing the water pumped into the big hole in the ground. The miners estimate that it will be fully a month before work will be resumed in this shaft, even if the first attack on the fire has proved successful.

No correct estimate of the loss by fire can be made until the extent of damage in the shaft is known. The superintendent stated this evening that he could not give out any figures as to the approximate damages, but hoped they would be far smaller than at first LONDON, Aug. 17.—(By Atlantic Cable.) A dispatch to the Times from Lima says that at least 3000 tribesmen were in the fight. Then, as the infantry attacked, they fled, and when the other 2000 saw their line of retreat threatened they moved away.

He is 76 and she is 22, but Gen. Longstreet does not appear to be over 50, being well-preserved and of fine military bearing.

Miss Dorch is an applicant for Col. Mil-lidge's post as State Librarian under the bill passed through her endeavors.

An Opinion.

The ostrich is a large bird, with a long neck, and is armed with his bow, arrows and knife, he sets forth. The nearest ostrich feeding camp is a mile away, and there is no covert but the long sun-dried yellow grass, but that is enough for the Bushman. Working himself over the ground, with the greatest caution, he crawls flat on his stomach, the tall bird, nearer he dare not creep on the bare plain, and at more than twenty paces he cannot trust his light red arrows.

TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL MEET OF THEIR ASSOCIATION.

Five Hundred Delegates Assemble at the Opera-house in Detroit at the Opening Session.

WELCOMED BY GOV. PINGREE.

HE ADVANCES HIS VIEWS ON THE MONEY QUESTION.

Address by President Lowrey and Yearly Report by Secretary Brach-Tusk by George H. Russell.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

DETROIT (Mich.), Aug. 17.—The banking interests of the country were well represented this morning, when about five hundred delegates to the American Association assembled in the Detroit Opera-house for the opening session of the twenty-third annual meeting of that body.

The welcoming speech of Gov. Pingree, while considered somewhat radical by some of the members, was on the whole well received, and he received a generous amount of applause at its conclusion.

George H. Russell, as spokesman of the Detroit Clearinghouse, administered a mild rebuke to the Governor by saying that he had only been in the banking business eight or nine years, and would not therefore attempt to deliver a homily on the money question or the evils of corporations.

The annual convention of the Detroit Clearinghouse, administered a mild rebuke to the Governor by saying that he had only been in the banking business eight or nine years, and would not therefore attempt to deliver a homily on the money question or the evils of corporations.

PURSUIT OF THE RUNAWAYS.

AFTER A HOT CHASE ALL BUT THREE RECAPTURED.

Thrifty Citizens Make Money Bagging Boys at Ten Dollars a Head. The Captives Lodged in the School Dungeon.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

There was a boy hunt at Whittier yesterday evening that in many respects resembled an old-fashioned rabbit drive. They were reform-school boys, of course, and the reason they were hunted was because they were wanted.

There were no boys in the reform school it might be necessary to close the institution, and if there were a shut down what would become of the many faithful followers of Jim-budd, who are drawing salaries from the State for which some of them, at least, appear to render a doubtful equivalent?

Time was when guards were the least important functionaries on the State school pay-roll, only a few were employed, and it was seldom that they had to exert themselves in order to prevent the inmates of the institution from taking French leave. But ever since the school was taken over by the State, the guards have shown an inordinate disposition to change their residence. So frequent have runaways become that the guards have been repeatedly doubled, and nearly every episode of the institution seemingly does more guard duty than taught else.

It is not long since nearly the whole school—all the larger boys, at least—were in open mutiny. The judges, in pairs, and in large numbers, many of them have been brought back and made to do penance. A spirit of unrest has been continually manifested by the boys, and the school is in a state of constant commotion.

The Times
ALL ALONG THE LINE.

San Pedro is making a strong bid for popularity as a summer resort or an all-year-round resort. Fourteen dogs were captured and killed in the town in one day.

The Street Superintendent evidently believes that the city as well as other property-owners is amenable to the building ordinance. He has served notice upon the City Clerk that the City Hall must be provided with fire escapes. As the Public Library is frequently crowded with people, and as the staircase now affords the only means of escape in case of fire, the safeguard is needed.

Klondyke Berry is at Pacific Grove, and is said to be "weary of his sudden publicity." The modesty of Berry and his aversion to publicity are apparent in his offer to supply 5000 words about himself, together with portraits of himself, wife and dog, and a picture of his frying pan, for $3000. Probably he has gone to Pacific Grove to avoid the rush of publishers coming from the East on special trains to secure his valuable literary productions.

The action of the Police Commissioners in the case of Special Officer Shields, who extorted $2 from a citizen for service that the citizen had a right to demand, may impress upon other policemen the fact that they are paid by the taxpayers of Los Angeles to preserve the peace and arrest offenders—that they are hired men and not rulers of the city—and that they have no right to any other compensation than that allowed by law. It is probable that very few men on the force entertain the peculiar notion Shields seems to have had about his right to levy petty blackmail on an innocent man, and the fate of Shields is likely to cause them to readjust their views of the special privileges conferred by brass buttons.

The "germanist" who runs the Santa Anita Hotel, and only a partial success of his attempt to hold up the City Trustees, and doubtless he feels grieved. When bids for city printing were asked for, he thought he saw the opportunity of his life to acquire wealth beyond the dreams of avarice. He had the only daily paper, and with the law as a Jimmy, he thought he could pry open the city safe and help himself to the public treasure. Wherefore he demanded more than 400 per cent. more for his work than he had been charging, and a row ensued. The Trustees refused to stand and deliver. Then he moderated his greed about one-fourth, and the trustees compromised weakly at that. If his blade had only been a two-shoot scatter-gun he might have captured the entire treasury.

[New York Evening Sun:] There are many rumors going the rounds about the wheel of 1898. That it will be chainless nobody doubts. This being the case, the recent slump in the price of bicycles is partially explained. It is easy to see why the big firms should be anxious to clear out their stocks in view of a complete change in model. Next year's bicycle will be a $100 article, and will continue to be such for a considerable time. It will be interesting to see how long it will take to make the use of the chainless wheel tolerably general. If the new one differs in appearance, in shape of frame, etc., from that used at present, the rate of adoption will be faster, for the present model will be more readily identified as out of date. In wheels as in clothes, it is not pleasant to be behind the times. But if it is impossible to improve on the present frame in a hurry, the adoption of the chainless wheel will be comparatively slow. So long as appearances are all right many persons will be content to use the present article rather than go to the expense of a new one. It is to be expected that a number of trials of the new wheel have been made in secret and that they have been very successful in the matter of speed. Of course the present wheel is rapid enough for the ordinary rider. But it appears that without the chain the friction is decreased enormously and thus speed is promoted. In bicycles, as in battleships, the finished product of today will be obsolete tomorrow. All this makes for progress.

Presidential Courtesy.
The scenes of the three days previous to the President's departure from the White House were extraordinary. Frantic is the word that describes the anxiety that was manifested to reach him. Ante-room and corridors were thronged. Men elbowed each other and forgot good manners in their forlorn hope to obtain the places for which they had been waiting. Officials of a quarter of a century experience at the mansion shook their heads and said nothing like it had been before. If Mr. McKinley did not see everybody who called there last three days it was because human endurance and time both failed, says a correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Hour after hour, during the day and late at night, the President met that never-ending file. He neglected his exercise and his meals. He listened patiently. He promised where promise was possible and explained where requests could not be granted. In their feverish haste some callers said things that should have been left unsaid. Such things the President ignored. He was gentle and considerate to all, realizing and regretting keenly that there must, in the nature of the situation, be disappointments. And when after that siege without precedent in its fierceness of importunity, he went away, he left far less of murmuring and of resentment among those who had failed than would have followed a President of less sympathy and kindness.

A STRONG FOREIGN POLICY.

THIS WILL PROVE AN OFF YEAR FOR CALAMITY HOWLERS.

The Spring Which Saved George Washington's Life Is Found to Be Full of Bacteria—Reclaiming Swamp Land.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—This is an off year for "calamity howlers." There are a great many disappointed office-seekers and many of these are still lingering in Washington, some of them because they still hope for success, and others because they have not enough money to pay their way home. The cheap boarding-houses are filled with men who three months ago were stopping at first-class hotels, and the street-car companies have applications on file the names attached to which correspond with those on applications in the State Department for important diplomatic positions. Some of these have been more successful with the street-car companies than with the President, and men who expected to guide the helm of state, now operate a ticket punch. It is a noticeable fact that Washington has the most courteous and gentlemanly street-car conductors in the United States. The reason for this is easily explained. No city possesses so many attractions for young professional men, and those who are seeking honorable positions. It is neither a commercial nor a manufacturing center, and when these young men fail to find governmental positions, the only openings to be had are on the street cars. A very respectable alumni association representing some of the leading universities could be formed among the street-car employees. If an interpreter should be employed, a telephone message to the office of one of the street-railroad companies would secure one for any of the European languages, as soon as the linguist could leave his run. They are not all of this class, but it is remarkable how many are. Last year it was difficult to find any but Democratic conductors, now they are nearly all Republicans. They only take these positions temporarily, and it requires but a few months for the politics of the street-car conductors to accord with the administration. Nearly all of them are office-seekers. Washington is well supplied with street-car lines, but there are not enough places to provide for all the political wrecks, and many of them really suffer before friends send them means with which to reach their homes.

It has become apparent that there will be a firm American policy on all of our affairs with foreign countries, and that while "jingoism" will be avoided upon the one hand, no right of the United States will be allowed to be interfered with. The policy as to pensions and internal improvements is broad and liberal. The general business condition of the country is steadily improving, and there is nothing for the calamity howlers to lay hold upon; the prices of farm products are rising, the price of silver is the lowest in its history, disappearing all of the silver-agitators' theories by the hard logic of facts. All of these things have come about in five months. Everything is tranquil in financial circles as though there had never been a panic, and the affairs of state proceed without friction, while the President and his chief counsellors enjoy their vacations. The contrast with the turbulence of the last administration of ex-President Cleveland is so great that it cannot escape being noticed.

The "Ponce de Leon" lithia spring on Fifth street between I and K streets has been filled up by order of the commissioners, and the news agencies have been silent concerning it. There are many old residents of Washington who think it an outrage and do not hesitate to say so. The water from this spring has never been a panic, and the affairs of state proceed without friction, while the President and his chief counsellors enjoy their vacations. The contrast with the turbulence of the last administration of ex-President Cleveland is so great that it cannot escape being noticed.

Dick Earlston, charged with having committed rape, was brought back from San Diego yesterday and locked up in the County Jail awaiting arraignment.

The District Attorney rendered an important opinion affecting reclamation penalty claims which will result in the rejection of a large number by the Board of Supervisors.

OFFICER SHIELDS'S STAR GOES A-GLIMMERING.

Police Commissioners Find Him Guilty of Extorting Money from T. E. Larney—Protestants Knock Out Saloon-keepers.

Yesterday's session of the Board of Police Commissioners proved a lively one. The board took up the case of Officer Shields, charged with illegally extorting $2 from T. C. Larney on the night of July 31, and the investigation resulted in the adoption of a resolution instructing Chief Glass not to give any employment to Shields in the future. Shields has been given an extra special policeman, who are occasionally called upon for duty in emergencies or in the absence of regular officers. The action of the board disqualifies him for such service in future. A resolution exonerating Capt. Roberts was adopted.

The case was brought to the attention of the board by Commissioner Gibbon at its meeting last week, the facts being embodied in a communication which he had received from T. C. Larney. A warrant was issued on July 29 for Larney's arrest on a charge of embezzlement. Larney interviewed District Attorney Chambers, who said that the charge was unfounded. Mr. Chambers telephoned to the Police Station, directing that the warrant be withdrawn. Through an oversight this instruction was not obeyed and no memorandum of it was made. On Saturday, July 31, an officer was sent to Larney's house to arrest him. Larney was not at home, but when he arrived about 9 o'clock in the evening he learned that the officer had called for him, and Larney at once went to the Police Station to explain matters. He told his story to the officers, who were impressed with the man's innocence, but knew nothing of the order withdrawing the warrant and therefore did not feel willing to release Larney. The latter then asked if he could not go with an officer to Mr. Chambers's house and get an order of release. Mr. Shields, who was on duty with Officer Shields, who said he would go provided Larney paid him $2. Rather than spend the night in jail, Larney paid the patrolman arriving at Mr. Chambers's house an order of release was immediately indorsed on the warrant and Larney was allowed to go.

Commissioner Gibbon submitted to the board an affidavit by F. A. Coleman, who deposed that he was in the station on the night in question, when he heard Larney tell Capt. Roberts that the case against him was to be dismissed and heard him ask Shields to go out with him to the District Attorney's house; that Shields demanded $2 and affiant interposed the suggestion that Larney could send a messenger for the money, upon which Shields said, "You are meddling with something that is none of your business," adding that it was not fair to keep him from making a few dollars.

A communication was also read from Officer Shields, in which he protested that he had not intended to do anything wrong, but he inclosed the $2 received from Larney.

In the investigation which followed, Chief Glass, Capt. Roberts, Officer Cloutier, Officer Shields and T. E. Larney were examined under oath. Officer Cloutier testified that he was desk sergeant during the last week of July, and that he received a telephone message late one night from Deputy District Attorney Chambers directing him to withhold the warrant for Larney's arrest, but that he could not then find the warrant, and subsequently forgot to see that it was recalled.

Capt. Roberts made a plain statement of the facts in which he said that when Larney came into the station on the night of July 31 and told his story, he was convinced that it was true. Nevertheless he found himself in a dilemma—if he allowed Larney to go he might be punished for contempt of court, for he had no evidence of the order withdrawing the warrant; if he caused Larney to be locked up, it might be a grave injustice to an innocent man; and to oblige Shields to go with him to the District Attorney's house and get an order of release, he considered an injustice to Shields. This last statement Capt. Roberts explained on the ground that Shields was a supernumerary and not subject to orders like regular members of the force, unless actually on duty.

Commissioner Gibbon took vigorous exception to this explanation, and insisted that Capt. Roberts had full opportunity to oblige Shields to go with Larney, and that Capt. Roberts was derelict in allowing money to be extorted from Larney. Mayor Snyder and Commissioners McLain and Wyman did not agree with this position, and a somewhat heated discussion followed. Numerous questions were asked of the witnesses, but without eliciting anything new.

Commissioner Gibbon then offered a resolution that Chief Glass be instructed not to give any further employment to Shields, and that a reprimand be administered to Capt. Roberts. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Preuss. Commissioner Gibbon declared that the affair was "the most outrageous thing that had occurred in the police force since he had become connected with it." He denounced the practice of extorting money from citizens by the police and declared that it must stop, alluding to other cases where members of the force had been charged with this offense. The worst feature of the case in hand, in his estimation, was the inability of the members of the board to appreciate the fact that it was wrong to exact money from Larney.

The discussion developed a wide difference of opinion as to the responsibility of Capt. Roberts in the premises. Commissioner Gibbon therefore said he would divide his original resolution, and he moved first that Chief Glass be instructed not to give any more work to Shields. This motion was seconded by Commissioner Preuss, and carried.

Commissioner Gibbon then moved that Chief Glass be instructed to reprimand Capt. Roberts, the motion being seconded by Commissioner Preuss. As a substitute for this motion, Commissioner McLain offered a resolution exonerating Capt. Roberts from blame in the affair. Commissioner Wyman seconded the motion, and the board voted to carry the motion. Mayor Snyder voting, with Commissioners Wyman and McLain in the affirmative, the other members of the board voting no.

The two dollars which had cost Officer Shields his star, were then returned by Mayor Snyder to T. E. Larney.

OTHER BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.

A large part of the session was occupied with saloon matters. The application of James Moeckel for a transfer of his license from No. 347 to No. 330 South Spring street, was taken up by a number of business men on Spring street, between Third and Fourth streets, W. M. Holland appeared before the board, and made an earnest protest against allowing the transfer, saying that there are already five saloons in the block, and that any increase in the number would be very detrimental to other lines of business in the vicinity. Mr. Holland was followed by other protestants, who spoke in the same vein. Upon motion of Commissioner Wyman, the application was finally denied.

The application of Harry M. Butler for a transfer to himself of the license held by Samuel Stein, at No. 106 North Main street, also evoked considerable discussion. A strong protest had been filed by property-owners and business men in the vicinity. Stein has been running only a sideboard, but Butler desired to run a regular saloon, where 5-cent beer would be sold. The place adjoining the German American Savings bank and P. F. Schumacher, assistant cashier, appeared in behalf of the bank to make objection to the proposed transfer. Commissioner Preuss also made a strong protest. On motion of commissioner Preuss the application was denied.

Sundry rates of saloon licenses will improve. Street Superintendent Drain gives notice that on Thursday morning at 9 a.m. he will inspect the recently completed improvements on Hemlock and Thalia streets. Property-owners are invited to be on hand.

Fired With the City Clerk.

A petition from property-owners on West Twenty-second street, between Union avenue and Toberman street, for grading, curbing and curbing the street, was filed yesterday with the City Clerk. A petition was filed for grading, curbing and curbing the street, signed by property-owners. A protest against the proposed sewer on Avila street, between Baughet and Thalia streets, was filed yesterday with the City Clerk.

Fire Escapes for the City Hall.

Building Superintendent Stratton has addressed a communication to the City Clerk, in which he says that according to the city ordinance, every building requiring fire escapes to be placed on all buildings over two stories high, the City Hall should be equipped in this manner. The letter states that property-owners when called on to erect fire escapes frequently object that the City Hall is exempted from the rule. Mention is also made of the fact that during much of the time there are twenty or thirty employees in the Public Library, and after 4:30 p.m. there are often 200 or 300 patrons there, and no means of escape exists in case of fire, except the staircase. In the opinion of the Building Superintendent, public safety demands the erection of fire escapes, and suitable balconies.

SANTA MONICA.

Meeting of the City Council—Inquiries for Sewer Bonds. SAN MONICA, Aug. 17.—[Regular Correspondence.] The City Council met in regular session Monday evening with Mayor Jones in the chair.

A resolution of intention for the grading of South Fourth street from Railroad avenue to Front street, was adopted.

W. S. Vawter, Col. Baldrige and others petitioned for an electric light at the corner of South Third and Ash streets.

The $40,000 city sewer bonds are in good demand, there being considerable inquiry for information by capitalists and investment companies. Trustee Carrillo called the attention of the board to the fact that the ordinance regulating the speed of the electric cars within the city limits was constantly violated by the employees of the Pasadena and Pacific Company. The City Clerk was instructed to notify the company of this carelessness on the part of its employees.

The clerk, on motion of Trustee Hostetter was also instructed to notify the same company to remove the horse car tracks from Third street, and Utah and Ocean avenues, where the loose rails had become a constant menace to children.

Mrs. E. J. Gorham and her grandson Hal, have gone to Gold Hill, Nev., to visit Mrs. Gorham's daughter. The new residence of J. S. Wilson at the corner of Oregon and Sixth streets was given a warming Monday evening by a surprise party inaugurated by the ladies of the local lodge of Daughters of Rebekah. Mr. Wilson and family were thoroughly surprised. The evening was spent in dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Tufts and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe of Los Angeles, who have spent the summer in Santa Monica, will remain during the winter also.

Prof. N. F. Smith of the city schools after spending the greater part of his vacation in the performance of his duties as a member of the County Board of Education, has gone to his Riverside orange grove for a few weeks of rest before the beginning of the school year.

SPECIAL EXCURSION TO MOUNT LOWE. For the members, grand musical festival, and other attractions, Thursday, Aug. 19, from Los Angeles over entire line Mt. Lowe Railway and return, only $1.50. Office 214 South Spring street. Telephone main 960.

BEHIND THE BARS.

DICK EARLSTON BROUGHT BACK FROM SAN DIEGO.

Had a Criminal Record Prior to the Time the Minor Assault was Committed—Two Marriage Licenses Appeared in the Records Over His Signature.

Richard Earlston, who was arrested in San Diego on a charge of rape preferred by the father of little Bula Minot of this city, was brought back yesterday and placed in the County Jail awaiting arraignment.

According to the story of the girl, he enticed her to his room and, after accomplishing his purpose, allowed her to go to her home. The condition of the young girl, who is not fourteen years of age, has been very critical since the commission of the crime in May last, the attending physicians frequently pronouncing her nearly at the point of death.

The complaint was made at the time, but the Minot procured a warrant for the arrest of Earlston on a charge of abduction, alleging that he had run away with the girl. The next day the girl returned to her home, and her mother gave to the newspapers the information that the girl had been visiting in Santa Monica and had not been with Earlston at all. The complaint was withdrawn accordingly.

Mrs. Minot professed to be anxious to keep Earlston away from her daughter, and sought advice as to means. She was advised that the girl's father, if he was any good and could handle a shotgun, should be able to attend to that matter, and she professed to be satisfied with that advice. The next day she consented to the girl's marriage with Earlston. The license was issued July 15, and the child and the man were married.

On the evening of the day of his marriage to Bula Minot, Earlston attended a performance at the Orpheum in company with a woman who has since figured conspicuously in the case. To her husband Earlston is believed to be a witness that he had been married on that day, and that he proposed to celebrate the occasion in a manner most suitable to his tastes.

Shortly after the marriage was announced, it became known about that Earlston had another wife, and that she was at the time living with him in this city. Investigation of the records established the truth of this charge, a license having been granted to Earlston and Katherine Rickover on the 20th day of February, 1895.

It is alleged that Earlston announced his intention to take Bula Minot to San Diego as soon as she had sufficiently recovered from the ordeal, and he intended to travel then to New Orleans in company with the woman with whom he visited the Orpheum on the night of the wedding.

Earlston is said to have enticed two other girls to San Diego for the same purpose and have obtained money by the transaction.

Bula Minot, however, failed to recover, and Earlston, alarmed at her condition, secretly left for parts unknown. He was finally recovered by the Sheriff, and his arrest followed.

Earlston's acquaintances declare him to be a shrewd fellow, and state that during his stay in the city he repeatedly endeavored to gain admission into the home circles of several of the leading families in Los Angeles. In this direction, however, his efforts were not successful.

Several months ago he was arrested and convicted on a charge of having stolen a bicycle, and he spent three months in the County Jail and chain gang.

Earlston's bonds were fixed by Justice Young at the fault of which he was returned to jail.

HAD A KNOT ON HER FOOT.

Strange Case of Circumstantial Evidence Reported from Burbank. A case has been appealed from Justice Thompson's court at Burbank which, while serious enough in its legal aspects, has an interesting side to it of considerable interest.

Farmer Charritay, a Frenchman, and Farmer Hoff, a German, are neighbors, their ranches being located a short distance out of Burbank. They had been on bad terms for some time, and finally reached a stage where Charritay issued a warrant on a charge of malicious mischief. Charritay complained that Hoff had broken up his branches from his fruit trees and uprooted his vines. Hoff denied it and when he came up before the court there was a conflict of testimony. Evidence at the trial revealed the fact that upon one particular occasion, when much damage had been done to Charritay's trees, the imprint of two feet were discovered about the trees. In places where the ground was soft and retained a good impression, it was shown that the owner of the feet of the great toe. The further fact was elicited that both Hoff and his wife were on shoes and it was found that upon a foot of Mrs. Hoff a large knot-like projection existed. Her arrest followed and she was promptly convicted.

Rivera's attorneys represented that a proper defense could not be made owing to a lack of preparation, and Justice Young set the case as above.

REJECTED CLAIMS.

Many Redemption Penalties not to Be Refunded. District Attorney Donnell yesterday filed an opinion with the Board of Supervisors affecting the refunding of excessive redemption penalties and advising that thirty-nine out of the forty-three claims submitted to the board at this session be not allowed, as the period of validity had expired.

The official statement in part is: "I am of the opinion that these claims are not such as are contemplated in the County Government Act of 1897, and the board has no authority to consider or allow any such claims unless presented and filed within the year after the claim accrued. These claims accrued upon the day the redemption was made."

The laws relating to the redemption of lands which have been sold for taxes have been materially changed since 1895, the penalty schedule having been made to graduate from 10 to 100 per cent. on six months redemption to 100 per cent. upon redemptions not made earlier than five years from the date of the sale of property by the State. Under this amendment to the old law many of those who had redeemed their property were entitled to a rebate for excess redemption fees and many claims have accordingly been filed with the Supervisors for the recovery of such moneys. The rejections noted above were due to the failure of claimants to file their claims within the year limit after redemption, as required by law.

DEMAND BACK RENT. Joseph M. Workman has filed a suit for $1500 against Jesse J. Thornton, the plaintiff, claiming the amount to be due for rentals derived from property in El Paso, Tex., which was placed in defendant's charge as trustee. Workman being a minor.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED. T. C. Dyer, Esq., of this city, has brought suit against the Los Angeles Water Company for $225 damages. The complaint upon which the suit is brought is of a nature unusual in damage proceedings. Mr. Dyer complains that the Water Company disconnected the pipes running from the main upon his premises, although all water rents had been paid, and as a result plaintiff's lawn was damaged to the extent of the amount named.

JAIL IMPROVEMENTS. Supervisor Wirsching was authorized by the board yesterday to have made such improvements in the jail as to prevent communication between visitors and prisoners. The jail officers have made much annoyance from outsiders talking with prisoners in violation of the rules.

A YOUNG ORATOR.

He Frightened the Neighbors, Who Called an Officer. Last night a telephone message was received at the Police Station asking to have an officer sent to No. 214 West Second street "quick." Some man was there chasing his wife all over the house with a hatchet.

Detective Goodman was detailed to subdue the would-be murderer. A little later he returned to the station in a taciturn mood and refused to say more than that the man who had sent the message was a fool. A little later, however, he had persuaded to tell what the trouble had been. When he arrived at the address given, the most dangerous person found was a moderate sized, middle-aged man, Roman orations, to his mother, who appeared to be an interested listener with no fear of being cleaved by a hatchet.

Lost a Toe. Harry Rose, a newsboy about 10 years of age, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. He attempted to board a Temple-street car near Spring, when he fell. His foot was thrown under the car wheels and one of the toes so badly crushed that it was necessary to amputate it. Two more toes were badly crushed and one of the bones in the foot broken. Dr. Ralph Hagan attended to him and later his father, who is a fruit peddler, called and took him to his home at No. 822 Lyon street.

Assaulted a Chinaman. John Oswald, a sixteen-year-old boy, got into an altercation with a Chinaman last night, and was brought by Constable Menzer to the Police Station, where a charge of assault with a deadly weapon was placed against him. Later his friends called and secured his release on a bond for $1000.

Death of a Millionaire. Charles H. Peck of St. Louis, died last Sunday in a Los Angeles sanitarium. He was a member of the richest family in St. Louis, and his son and daughter will inherit $300,000 of valuable residence property in St. Louis and silver mines in Arizona.

Dropped Dead. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, M. J. Mann, who lives at Green Meadows, dropped dead from heart disease. He was 68 years of age. The inquest will be held at 10 o'clock this morning.

Mikkelsen Held.

Peter Mikkelsen, the old man who was arrested at Soldiers' Home for personating John Svenningsen, was examined yesterday before United States Commissioner John Byrne, and held to answer on $1000 bail.

earlier than five years from the date of the sale of property by the State.

Under this amendment to the old law many of those who had redeemed their property were entitled to a rebate for excess redemption fees and many claims have accordingly been filed with the Supervisors for the recovery of such moneys.

The rejections noted above were due to the failure of claimants to file their claims within the year limit after redemption, as required by law.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION. Articles of incorporation were filed by the Porter Gold and Silver Extraction Company yesterday.

The directors of the corporation are: L. E. Porter, E. K. Alexander, A. H. Judson and William B. Judson of Los Angeles, and J. B. Coulston of Condersport, Pa.

The capital stock is $200,000, divided into 20,000 shares, and the principal place of business Los Angeles.

FROM SCHOOL TO JAIL. Joseph Moore, who escaped from the Whittier Reform School several weeks ago and who has just been arrested at Santa Paula, was brought to Los Angeles yesterday by Officer White of the school and confined in the County Jail for a few hours, after which Moore was taken back to Whittier.

LARGE SUM DEMANDED. A suit has been filed by J. W. Tugue and James Smith against O. M. Baldwin to recover the sum of $16,055.61, alleged to be due unsettled claims accruing from the existence of a partnership, which has been dissolved.

The parties to the suit, together with twenty-seven others, were members of the "Kansas Street Syndicate" of Pasadena, which dealt extensively in improved and unimproved city property.

When Baldwin withdrew from the syndicate, it is alleged, he drew a balance to the concern of the amount sued for.

A SAN PEDRO SUIT. P. H. Thornton has brought suit against the Southern Pacific Company and the San Pedro Pavilion Association for the recovery of $248.68, which is claimed to be rentals derived from property in the pavilion at San Pedro.

NEW OIL PROJECT.

GARVEY RANCH LEASED BY SAN FRANCISCANS.

If Boring Proves Successful, Pipe Line Will Be Laid to San Pedro—Advice to Local Oil Producers.

Within two weeks boring for oil on the Garvey ranch will be commenced. The information was obtained from I. C. Emory, who is in the city in the interests of the Arctic Oil Company of San Francisco. Mr. Emory was here about three weeks ago and it was at that time he decided to invest the money of his company near Los Angeles. His decision was arrived at after a very careful study of all the fields in Southern California, as much of his time during the past two years has been spent in this work.

In talking about it yesterday he said: "I have found many good fields. Two months ago I was here. After that I went North, going through the districts of Chatsworth Park, Newhall, Pico Canyon, Santa Barbara, Summerland, Carpinteria, Puenente, across the Rincon and Coyote rivers and in the Santa Ynez and Sulphur Mountains. In many of these places there is plenty of oil, but they are too remote from transportation facilities or the royalty which the property owners demand is so high that we do not care to handle it."

The Garvey ranch of twelve hundred acres has been leased for a period of ten years, and if the preliminary wells which are to be sunk immediately prove a success the company will build a vessel specially for the carrying of oil, and put in a four-inch pipe line to San Pedro, so that there will be no expense of reloading, as storage capacity will be provided at the harbor.

"The expense of getting into such shape," said Mr. Emory, "will not be less than $150,000. If, however, we find that our wells have a good flow it will undoubtedly be a paying investment, as we can readily dispose of immense quantities of fuel oil in San Francisco at $1.25 per barrel. We will not only make our own supply, but hope to be able to take care of the surplus from the Los Angeles and surrounding wells."

At present it is the intention of the company to produce only fuel oil, but a refinery may be established later if the quality is sufficient to warrant it. Even should the experiment not prove successful, at least $20,000 will be spent as it is intended to make a thorough test. It is not expected that it will be necessary to drill deeper than 1000 feet, but preparations will be made to go down at least 1500 feet.

In regard to the policy of Los Angeles producers in forcing their oil on the market at such low prices, Mr. Emory thought it was almost suicidal, as the wells are almost sure to give out at some time not very far in the future, and then there will undoubtedly be a demand for oil at good prices.

The better way would be to store the surplus 25,000 barrels per month which are being pumped, and demand at least one dollar per barrel, which would be allowing a fair profit.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
Four-leaved Clovers No Novelty in This Country.
A big bunch of old-fashioned red clover now on exhibition in the Chamber of Commerce attests the size and strength attained by this plant when grown in Southern California. It was planted by William Keever of this city, who declares that red clover is peculiarly adapted to the soil and climate of this country, where its growth is more prodigious than that of alfalfa. One marked characteristic of the California variety of this plant is the commonness of the magical four-leaved clover. From the bunch now on exhibition, Secretary Wiggins has culled quite a little bouquet of four and five-leaved sprays, which are placed in a smaller jug just above the large bunch.

Some interesting exhibits have been sent from the experiment station at Pomona to the Chamber of Commerce. Specimens of the stump apples, Alexander and White Astrachan, and of Burbank plums, are so fine that Mr. Wiggins has reserved them for wax casts. The other exhibits, queer Japanese millet, a hearse, a pump, closed turkey-foot, and a giant German millet with stalks six feet long and heads measuring six inches, have been placed in the exhibition hall.

G. Rossati, California's worst enemy in the tariff fight at Washington, has sent to the Chamber of Commerce for literature on orange and lemon culture in Southern California. Mr. Wiggins opines that Rossati wants to see what struck him, and threatens to write that all literature was used up in fighting Italians on the tariff question.

James Wilson, Secretary of the Agricultural Department at Washington, is now making a tour of Colorado and Utah, and will be invited by the Chamber of Commerce to visit Southern California.

The Southern California Fish Company is putting in a new exhibit of canned goods, this time under glass. The last exhibit, which was confidingly strung out on shelves, vanished piecemeal in the pockets and under the capes of visitors afflicted with kleptomania.

Mrs. I. N. Stephenson of Verdugo exhibits some beautiful panicles. One of Bryant of The Palms, Pearmain apples weighing one pound each. Frank Vail of Whittier, sends some fine Satsuma plums.

ANOTHER RAID.

A Chinatown Captain Who Sells Lottery Tickets.
Wong Si Hang, one of the wealthiest men in Chinatown, and his son, Wong Hin, were arrested last night for running a lottery-house. Si Hang has been holding out in Nigger Alley, and the police have found it difficult to get sufficient evidence against him to make the arrest. Yesterday, however, a warrant was secured, and armed with that Sgt. Jeffries and Officers Sparks and Fowler made the raid.

The furnishings of the room were much better than in most lottery joints, but these were destroyed and carted up to the station along with the big bundle of tickets and other paraphernalia. The prisoners were released on $50 bail each.

Yacht Race Protested.
Jack McCrean and W. E. DeLay of the yacht Restless have filed a protest against the decision of the judges of last Sunday's race at Terminal Island. They say they were "buncoed" by the judges and allege that the Flying Bird, the winner should have been barred out of the race under rule 17 for not starting until after the time limit expired. Their protest is rather confusing in form, but apparently they allege that the San Pedro and not the Flying Bird crossed the finish line nine minutes behind the Restless, that the judges mixed the names, and that the Restless won the race.

Of Flexible Dental Plates is as yet but little known by the public and less understood by dentists in general. It has many advantages over the ordinary rubber plate, even gold plates—being lighter and thinner. This plate being flexible, no thicker than heavy writing paper, its closer to the mouth, will last longer, and is tougher than any other rubber. Once tried no other plates will be desirable. Brought to this notice of the public through Dr. Schiffman only. Office Hours: 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Sundays 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Lady attendant to wait on Ladies and Children.

Protect Your Strength.

Don't you want to free yourself from the steady stream of ailments which are eating away your strength? Every man has seen his wild oats to some extent before he reaches the age of manhood, and there is in every man more or less of the effect of his early dissipation. ## SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

Notes and Personal.

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 17.—[Regular Correspondence.] J. C. Reed and Mrs. Annie Hudson, both of Santa Paula, were married at this morning by Capt. Laro. Last evening Mr. Reed and his fiancée registered at the New Morris House, and then went up Capt. Laro's engine, his gasoline schooner Lizzie Bell W. At 9:15 p.m. the vessel put out for sea with twelve passengers, and when about nine miles out at sea the captain and the two in the bows of matrimony.

The trip was much enjoyed by all except the bride and groom, who were unaccustomed to the sea.

It appears that a few months ago Mrs. Hudson was divorced from her husband, who immediately after was married to a lady physician to railroad Mrs. J. B. Richards of this city into the insane asylum, caused considerable comment here Tuesday, the matter receiving very general attention.

Mrs. Richards is the wife of the lease and manager of Hotel Windsor. For several years past the husband and wife have not lived continuously together. During this period which was a permanent place of residence and has successfully conducted his hotel business. His wife's movements, meanwhile, have been erratic, which is putting it into the hands of the insane asylum, the casual observer as being mentally unbalanced, but she is none the less sane.

She has led her husband a lively chase, and her actions when in the strict seclusion of the family, have been out of the ordinary, not to say trying.

The solicited advertisements for publications and other things with a certain amount of success, and in that way has helped support herself, but the idea prevails that Mr. Richards has also called upon the insane asylum to adjust the matter, and that the amount of the lady's expenditures has always been regulated simply by the amount of her income.

After a long absence, Mrs. Richards visited Hotel Windsor last week, and her husband seemed to be on friendly terms, but the woman's alleged insanity is still a subject of discussion.

Wynne called in Dr. Tyler, and a careful examination convinced the physicians, both of whom had been called in by the husband, that Mrs. Richards was insane. She was accordingly sent to the hospital at Santa Barbara.

The board of examiners pronounced her sane, and Judge Campbell backed up their opinion by declaring to the court that the question has resolved itself simply into a difference of opinion between the two boards of examiners.

The idea that two of Redlands' most reputable physicians tried to "railroad" the woman into an asylum is not tenable. Those who know her best are least in doubt as to her mental condition.

Had news reached Redlands Tuesday morning of the death of J. C. Weeks, president of the Redlands community, and immediately became a factor in the business and social life of the community. Although a man of great energy and business ability, his character and business ability soon were manifested, and in a short time he was reckoned as one of the leading citizens of Redlands.

His death was a great loss to the community, and his funeral will be held at Redlands.

REDLANDS.

THE CASE OF MRS. RICHARDS CAUSES MUCH COMMENT.

J. C. Weeks, a Leading Redlands Citizen, Dies in Chicago—A Public Funeral Will Be Held—Formerly Blockaded, Kept Open Pending Judicial Decision.

REDLANDS, Aug. 17.—[Regular Correspondence.] The published statements, that originated in San Bernardino, to the effect that a bold attempt had been made by the Redlands Board of Public Works to block the case of Mrs. Richards, who is now in the insane asylum, caused considerable comment here Tuesday, the matter receiving very general attention.

Mrs. Richards is the wife of the lease and manager of Hotel Windsor. For several years past the husband and wife have not lived continuously together. During this period which was a permanent place of residence and has successfully conducted his hotel business. His wife's movements, meanwhile, have been erratic, which is putting it into the hands of the insane asylum, the casual observer as being mentally unbalanced, but she is none the less sane.

She has led her husband a lively chase, and her actions when in the strict seclusion of the family, have been out of the ordinary, not to say trying.

The solicited advertisements for publications and other things with a certain amount of success, and in that way has helped support herself, but the idea prevails that Mr. Richards has also called upon the insane asylum to adjust the matter, and that the amount of the lady's expenditures has always been regulated simply by the amount of her income.

After a long absence, Mrs. Richards visited Hotel Windsor last week, and her husband seemed to be on friendly terms, but the woman's alleged insanity is still a subject of discussion.

Wynne called in Dr. Tyler, and a careful examination convinced the physicians, both of whom had been called in by the husband, that Mrs. Richards was insane. She was accordingly sent to the hospital at Santa Barbara.
